Jeffrey with Reverend Karl Anderson at the Stop the Violence Back to School Rally

MeldonLaw Cares is also thrilled to announce our partnership with People Against Violence Enterprises, Inc. (PAVE). On July 25th, at the 21st annual "Stop the Violence Back to School Rally," we helped provide 3,000 backpacks filled with school supplies to local students in advance of the upcoming school year. Jeffrey can be seen next to Karl Anderson, the founder of P.A.V.E. and organizer of the event, at the Rally in the photo to the left. More info and photos from this event can be found on Page 2.

Pastor Karl Anderson took the initiative to start the "Stop the Violence Back to School Rally" to prevent episodes of youth violence. MeldonLaw Cares Program

Announces "Partners in Peace" with Back to School Rally

The "Stop the Violence Rally" held on July 25th at the Alachua County Fairgrounds distributed 3,000 backpacks filled with school supplies to kids in attendance for the start of the school year. This was the 21st year of this Back to School Rally. This year things had to be a bit different due to COVID-19 safety procedures. The Rally was operated as a drive-through where volunteers and staff, wearing masks and gloves, dropped the backpacks full of school supplies into the trunks of 3,000 participants. This no-contact delivery system allowed us to safely continue the back to school tradition. We are excited to grow our relationship with Pastor Anderson and P.A.V.E. in the future to continue to make a difference in the community.

MeldonLaw Cares has also been working with Rabbi Berl Goldman at the Lubavitch-Chabad Jewish Center, as well as the Masonic Lodge, to provide free boxes full of fruits and vegetables to those who need it in the community. On July 30th we helped operate a drive-through giveaway of fruits, vegetables, and other food supplies at Gainesville Lodge No. 41. We would like to thank our partners for helping us give back to the community during this trying time.

Sandra Finn's hand-crocheted flags

Sandra Finn, a resident of Orange County, has been featured in the Daily Sun and other newspapers for her hand-crocheted American flags. Recently, she surpassed the milestone of hand-stitching her 200th American flag. It now takes Sandra about a week to hand-stitch a complete flag. Sandra has donated many of the flags she has created and only sells them to cover the cost of supplies.

Jeffrey holding the hand-crocheted flag gifted to him by Sandra Finn

One of Sandra's hand-crocheted flags can be found adorning the entryway to the VA Clinic. Sandra recently gifted one of her famous hand-stitched flags to her attorney, Jeffrey. He is pictured to the left holding the flag. Sandra's attention to detail on every hand-stitched flag she has made thus far is incredibly noteworthy. Sandra continues to crochet American flags in memory of her late husband, Mickey Finn. We wish her the absolute best going forward as she continues to craft such remarkable hand-crocheted flags.
